The Teaching about God
Correction of crisis situations 16.10.2004

Hello again
the topic of my seminar today this is my Teaching about God

in this topic i show how can the situation be corrected which can be called, for example, a crisis and at the same time I show the following positions which are defined by the parameters like before the crisis situation yes in a crisis situation and generally speaking the further meaning of management when it starts to develop such a situation it comes down to understanding in general why and for what purpose did this situation arise and generally speaking, who is it aimed at?

i.e. in a crisis situation It is important to highlight the control object, so to speak which is actually the target link in this regard there is a very simple law identifying , as it were, the actual object of control which usually manifests itself in a pre-crisis situation i.e. when you are on an optical medium the same situation all the time well, in the form of information, for example , yes in the form of some number or in the form of some action and these actions are defined , for example, by a scheme of some events i.e. you can tell in advance that apparently we will be talking about something like this Yes as for some specific value i.e. it is either a person or an event, etc.

and here are the harbingers of this magnitude these are usually light-optical parameters which are expressed

Well for example, including in numerical form but as a rule this is the system so to speak optically flat lines as a rule i.e. to understand that a crisis situation is brewing then we need to consider it in the control optics as if at a certain distance from oneself and by the way, the distance parameter it is usually not very big either literally measured in specific physical meters from the human body somewhere around 10-11 meters a status of some value arises and these are usually small planes i.e. to identify, as we say harbingers of a certain crisis situation you need to very clearly, as it were, view and perceive namely the optical system which is quite specific i.e. in this regard crisis situation it is clearly manifested in general, in elementary, so to speak, optics even in mechanical optics and when you first start to catch it then you need to be more careful here and still consider the goal why this situation is developing for example in relation to any object of information or it is the personality of a person or is it an event at all so that's when you start to understand why then you should first look on the state of your Soul example, here is God who created the whole world He created it as Eternally Developing and a person from the point of view of his Consciousness of his development considers processes well as if in my own way and sees processes like this, for example well, within the framework of the development of an idea or thought as processes that may have it's like a vicious circle, yes i.e. here the thought is developing she gets to the initial level, for example and the system closes this is when the circle closes a fixing aspect arises and instability may arise here well, what relates, for example, to the concept of "crisis" although it happens that there is a crisis or there is some kind of quantitative value or the so-called crisis it happens that the next level it is immediately laid down more optimally i.e. the concept of "crisis" in a person's mind is not always this is, well, let's say, real Well, what do you mean by crisis in the absolute sense ? as a rule, this is an exit to some the following control system and here we need to understand what is your Soul as a manager and the Soul of that person whom you, for example , are saving from the crisis or from some serious problems he himself has these two Souls, so to speak they are at a certain point actually as if they were uniting into the decision system i.e. an element of love arises which is manifested, moreover, on optics i.e. love which is the solution to the crisis yes such that it begins to glow i.e. a person sees a glow and the glow is still in Perception again goes into a planar phase there is a constant condensation of information from the external phase i.e. a crisis event is a possible event which is located let's assume in the form of some kind of information plan concentration of information yes but the event itself is usually not perceived here only the projective part is perceived i.e. a person can say absolutely clearly that we are talking about the fact that something might possibly happen here but what exactly is his Soul of a person tries to constantly distribute control in this way for example, a negative value is not fixed i.e. it turns out that there are harbingers of a crisis there is no crisis itself, for example Yes at the prognostic level and here it is important to do so to correct this situation so that here is a harbinger if this is for example a form of information which one well as if guiding a person to solve his problem after all if for example he doesn't want to, he doesn't react then he should still get a decision but in a softer form yes i.e. he should in principle anyway for the sake of saving others all over the world somehow denote an information constant possible crisis

Well, that is, if there is a technological problem, yes For example there at the nuclear power plant or the problem is in the personality or in interpersonal relationships and here, for example, another person needs it say yes for example about something or provide some information then you can, for example, not provide but when the information is more important to another person than the crisis itself, actually, yes then you can provide information and how to balance the crisis, yes as if an exit such management

by the way, in diagnostics of nuclear power plants to minimize that's exactly the surge of the reagent zone or something you could say it like this in the reactor where there is a problem area and which could lead, for example, to a significant technological problem there then here, generally speaking, the same principle is used that often the other zone is less problematic, as it were as if it is displaced into the area so that by means of a kind of leverage in the optical expression of the principle the most problematic area was dispersed i.e. a large mass of information is supplied in management

by the way, the same reaction for example and we have the following status what, well, let 's say, actually , let 's say, at a price or something the main problem still needs to be solved for example, saving people at the nuclear power plant or there in this region and that's why it turns out that is essentially the concept of a "crisis situation" this is some kind of movement near some possible key problem i.e. in crisis systems there always exists the act of moving towards Salvation and when you understand it logically then you get that there is always a justification why for example some crisis happened yes or it could have happened there and there is always an understanding of what is really this is so in general, it's not even a crisis at all but just for the solution of the question , well, what's more, that question which, for example, could not be solved otherwise i.e. either there was no time there or you didn't pay attention and the question was difficult and it was necessary to make target management and then it turns out that this is when the question is complex is concentrated on the solution problem then a characteristic close to a crisis arises i.e. it is a combination of a lot of events and the primary goal is the salvation of man and all at once yes and one at a time it is always present in every person it turns out that this is like a tied ball no matter how you move he is constantly oriented to save this particular person i.e. the Soul of man generally speaking, it is always aimed at Salvation that's how it is in the original essence i.e. a person is closer to the original essence i.e. closer to God when it is oriented

For example let's say even for any action but in the long term aimed at the Salvation of all i.e. there is a concept of "directed into the future" i.e. it develops like this that he will save everyone in the future and generally speaking in every action there is a level of Macrosalvation i.e. universal Salvation and it turns out that the approximate phase what happens to a person in any case according to the structure of his Soul and what is separated is what he comes to at the level of moral principles of management and it turns out that there is a so-called that stretches in both directions where is the approximate part it's through Macrosalvation at the absolute level of control attracts a control fragment which also relates to the crisis, well as if to myself and the remote part it takes you to the level of for example well, some distant environment and when you start to see ahead as if to look at this distant environment you still see yourself and quite clearly i.e. it opens completely your personality structure when you deal precisely with a possible crisis situation and it opens up for you i.e. you see your personality in that ^{sense} what the physical body perceives structure of external information i.e. at the level of optical vision this hidden clairvoyant vision at the moment of development of a crisis situation you see yourself very clearly this is also one of the signs of a possible crisis situation i.e. you begin to see yourself in management at the level of problem solving i.e. if you decipher and descend into this position and since the Soul constantly begins to dismantle the event then you may not see the external situation but you can understand that you see yourself i.e. this is understanding which God gives to every person Well like a natural system of behavior and that's when you start to see here that you interact, ^{let's say}, with the outside world just like God interacts at least you should strive for this and try to implement the same movement it is clear that often for the sake of Salvation some specific person Well, we can move on to such minimization of the crisis situation that it generally doesn't mean anything to you i.e. you look at her ^{well} as if completely as if the situation wasn't even worth paying attention to that's when you start separating yourself from ^{yourself} structure of the crisis as a structure ^{well} in general, not even worthy of attention i.e. you start to get closer to yourself i.e. first you looked at your personality in the structure of a possible, so ^{to speak}, anti-crisis management then the personality is in control informative structure of personality ^{let's say so} is approaching you i.e. in fact you see that your personality is indivisible not on a physical level no information

i.e. in order to overcome the crisis it is necessary to maintain such management that the informative element of Consciousness i.e. the segment of Consciousness that you control and therefore which is perceived clearly as you yourself but on information yes you see yourself clearly if you look closely you can just say yes as in the picture see everything you do yourself i.e. this, by the way, is also one of the justifications why in some crisis situations a person sees some things

Well somehow differently or very transparently or something like that with the identified predictive capabilities or there are self-diagnostic systems because in this case you actually see your reflection in action to overcome the crisis and here is the action of the Soul where the Soul disbands general information about the crisis i.e. it turns out to capture the information itself it is difficult for a person to be personal in this case i mean the aspect of a person personally first of all but by and large any person any problem and any crisis affects and for example if there is well, even here is the growth of some disease and signs of disease then here too it is possible at very early levels determine that some kind of health problem is brewing as a rule, by the way, these problems are very early there they can literally start in 5 years before even the primary characteristics are formed and if for example you look at the information Well, actually, try to understand how to disband a possible human disease then you need to look at it according to the following principle this is the principle of time intervals For example there 10 years 15 25 etc.

and here the gradation is mainly derived to the level of 5 years there is also a 3-year graduation but then you need to catch the period For example there are 13 years old, 16 and 19 and then you need, for example , 25 again, etc.

those. here you need to somehow catch the connection for example numbers 3 there with 5 i.e. it turns out to be 8 in principle here is the anti-crisis value which consists of from 2 fragments in control and you start to sort of go through the intervals Well, by the way, what I said means that there are two types of control and in principle it is of course possible to work through even values but here it is more important to develop not even a system of values are there even numbers or odd numbers in numerical anti-crisis management and see how the value dissipates when approaching a crisis zone i.e. to diagnose the area it would be enough to have some kind of systemic value advance to the level of structure Well for example a person yes moving for example there is a number 8 some system or there we can suppose consider $5+3$ yes those. just 5 and 3

so here is the glow of two quantities shows organ which for example requires management yes for example, some disease does not arise even if in a distant period, there in 10-15 years , there in 25 years i.e. the structure of the manifestation is very clearly revealed Means well, there is a possible problem maybe not even diseases often and for example you just need to make additional control to increase the reserve because you have others are some more complicated matters there which put a strain on a specific organ then you better do the management now i.e., as a rule, the conversation then first goes about that what you have to do at some point add yourself levels of education actually yes into your future

so that you are prepared for some situation and took the situation calmly in real life it is natural that we when faced with different types of control systems so we can solve it in two ways, it turns out something in advance a lot of work in the structure ahead i.e. just find time and whoever has enough time calmly work through each worrying situation there yes which logically exists or an informative situation but there is one more thing for those who are very busy and do a lot of work for those it is necessary to somehow transform the situation forward i.e. to make a kind of overlap get out of the crisis information structure for example, here is the area of the crisis situation i.e. it usually has shades of some kind of glow as a fixed value indicating the event factor what are we even talking about the event itself usually does not manifest itself but there is a second bottom why is the crisis happening in relation to this value and you pass without touching two structures you're just creating a flood of information conduct optics, start to shine as if from the outside yes

God what is doing

He is covering the event.

and man in this light begins to navigate to find a solution i.e. in this case you do the same just locally and in your system although at the same time you make the level of Macrosalvation bring out as if your element a fragment of Consciousness to the distant plane and you start to shine

then it turns out that these values i.e. the manifested phase is the dynamic phase they start interacting and in principle a solution occurs but the solution can be quite specific if the magnitude of the crisis is such what you need absolutely Well, yes, definitely let's say clear information but at the same time you know, for example what for salvation yes well, specifically that person or Macro level at the same time in this action i.e. the macro level can be saved a priori yes i.e. just by acting but here it is meant at the same time

I still need to show it some more universal constant i.e. well, show the essence of the matter it turns out that in the anti-crisis version you probably need to be here already Well there, having created for himself a future chain of events, in fact decide what you will have to show information in full although well as if at the level of a logical plan perhaps this information no need there how to visualize yes however, there is such an aspect here that for Salvation one often needs to visualize information that is such that you will have to be with her for some time, maybe even a long time work and here is what post crisis management consists of that there are so-called residual systems

Well, after any crisis there, what does that say?

that there are some memories there are some structures which pull you out well or something in terms of memory i.e. the structure of memory lines is extended you can even see it on the information and then the cells elongate and you start to feel the strain but in any case, a person should of course remember everything but here in this case it is not just memory namely, it lengthens

a system of sorts of access to this information because the more you think about it takes you to reach this system next time

by the way, pay attention a problem that is so long-lasting yes every time you start thinking about it it seems to be getting even heavier if you perceive it as heavy then you need to make a very simple move do not go there at the level of the compacting optics and take and go around and enter from the point of decision and that's all it's done very simply i.e. the problem is extended, highlight this optics it moves as if it were some kind of bag and is pulled in and it gets more and more twisted how exactly, how such a heavy problem although one can still say something here that she is, well, kind of self-absorbed those. this information when approaching her you see that your informative contour is optical starts to get caught as if to be drawn into the structure deeper remote interaction i.e. control decreases stability decreases then there are very simple but radical systems which are often expressed by the word there by elementary action or simple elementary control then you enter the nodal system as if from the outside and this action is performed for this you just need to have a very high speed so it's exactly at this point i.e. you don't need to develop an optical pulse as if from you from the physical body yes but it's enough to see where is the level of development of any information situation i.e. to perceive and as a rule it is located somewhere near the physical body at a distance of about 25 centimeters and you start doing it like this put in this case to overcome the crisis the control area is as if far away from itself and show yourself what you see movement well as if of one's own system of will , so to speak or what? Yes by by management i.e. you must highlight the volitional contour when you do it i.e. you show well let's just say it to ourselves what are you doing this you can clearly see that the action is taking place i.e. this picture becomes completely clear

in management

and of course it is not necessary to have a crisis so that even well means to do management Moreover, the goal of management to prevent real, i.e. significant, crises so you start doing it

such management
that the entire control environment it becomes practically means directed to solve your problem that's exactly it, in anti-crisis management what is important here is that the primary impulse and movement for impulse as if the volitional aspect of management all these systems were constantly increasing in the end you do it like that that the entire structure of the World begins to transform into your Reality system and here is where the turning point arises she is very distant from you in fact, control comes from the Soul i.e. the Soul actually moves on to the next one or any one of the levels where have you already solved this problem and a long time ago and decided to do it exactly the way you see it now i.e. you start to see that there are very clear prognostic systems in the Soul but they are expressed precisely in the solution of the problem and that's when you start connecting means a solution system to your needs then the answer usually comes very quickly and in general it's elementary i.e. how does God do in deciding the management structure He is from the Soul that knows yes from His personal Soul, the Soul of God namely the control system he takes it then well, some segment of information begins to develop it and it turns out that the dynamics, i.e. the movement of the structure it's like a resting point i.e. for God what movement what is the starting point yes what is the next level point it's the same thing and here it is what's in the system how information is transformed in this case and in action and here it turns out that when you do the same thing you can avoid the crisis as if until its completion, so to speak, in essence i.e. in fact, God built the World this way that any crisis situation is this is generally speaking a solution to some problem here is one that could be more complex, more problematic, as it were and it turns out that this is what this is the level, well as a matter of fact like the next bottom and some kind of situation this is that level what if a person, for example, learned to solve these issues then he starts to control more and it does not go according to the level of information compaction if it is drawn in well, i.e. he has some feelings of sadness or depression arise

then it turns out that the next bottom is even deeper, yes addictive Well, I mean, I logically explained why this is happening. the concentration of information is further higher and when you start for example this is actually this twisting of information towards oneself because a person transfers everything to himself he always builds himself essentially with the Soul why does the Soul know everything in advance because she is also what is building physical body yes Spirit

Consciousness
some systems of Reality She also has to build it correctly and that's when you get sucked into the sealing system negative information then it turns out to be a building material it's already going well as if modified you still have to install some gateway filters digest improve and then this goes like this these are photonic systems automatically on your body and if you look at how God builds He builds himself in the same way , actually.

He builds the Physical Body at the expense of something like that what is the next level which He perceives as dynamic He translates it to Himself but this is His Perception He may not perceive it as dynamic.
It can be perceived as static. and then to be Eternal is simply as if without a dynamic yes , some action or manifestation so that's the difference between a person that he's just there all the time in the dynamics of action yes development of the physical body into Infinity but the capture system is the same

in management

and so here you just need to get closer to the technology of God i.e. or, generally speaking, definitely even make it better as God does

i.e. you can get closer in any way This is exactly what needs to be done so that the static value and the dynamic were the same in your Perception and this is a very distant light this is the Light of God again where God gives you True knowledge but immediately you completely and that's when you start to realize it i.e. completely individual physical body all events even your events

when do you start to realize this you are getting out of a crisis situation i.e. the exit itself is characterized by precisely that what you begin to perceive external control flow which is kind of external yes some crisis situation is putting pressure on you in fact this is the answer solution which is located in a denser mass of information i.e. the solution is brighter and the system it is less dense and it has functions as densities at an approximate level i.e. when do you perceive near yourself then it is a dense quantity at a distance it is a rarefied quantity the same to understand what kind of optics solves the crisis problem you just have to look at the magnitude of the possible crisis and also differentiate as I said if in a dense phase some signal is closer and therefore in the rarefied further from one point this is the point of solving the crisis and in diagnostic terms it is very generally speaking, an elementary action you have to move this point Well there further into the nodal part of the crisis i.e. find the system literally there if these are people then specifically what kind of people where and try to bring them to control point i.e. add a system of events and to give means that control so that a person can see how he can solve it at all your own problems in this situation and as a rule, when you have such a structure of knowledge you pass on then the crisis dissolves because if we are talking about a person then he saw it and that means well I helped you somehow there or have you moved to a common point of view if we are talking about some event then in this case there is a standardization of the structure of events in this case, the standardization can be very specific well, like, like , the next frame literally instantly becomes that place where was the problem just now well, that is, a change of Reality happens almost instantly with very large arrays for example , in front of you is a plant where there is a reactor even if it's a small mobile one he can for example explode there or give radioactive contamination and here you are, as it were, harshly distorting exactly the frame as it were yes in control i.e. you take and actually jerk it up and down you are making such a powerful local movement then you get a different system i.e. there is no longer any kind of crack in this reactor, etc.

i.e. you can see that with such systems it is possible to work with very large arrays of information Well, let's assume on the physical plane Generally speaking, you need to be able to work naturally with all the information of the World but when you work with local quantities it turns out that here you can have, in general, that character that the local value often seems more problematic here in management and this is this psychological aspect of management that's what it consists of what is it for a person there is an infinite amount of information yes crisis information this is actually common and this is, first of all, only one part of the Infinite i.e. this is already a finite value yes and compared to the infinitely large number of options Well, it's closer to what's in mathematics. some finite quantity becomes infinitely small i.e. often to resolve a crisis situation you just need to pay attention to the environment there in nature for some large array systems ^{yes} starry sky just to get distracted

i.e. shift the point of view to external information and then it turns out that this is the level which is ^{kind of} closed on your personality he starts to slip the crisis is beginning to dissolve in this case you need to look at this i.e. you need to observe and be able to observe even adjust during the process of disbandment so how to fix it ^{yes} how is it fixed i.e. at each phase it is also necessary to control

It's easier to work on that one that the Spirit acquires static properties also an unusual system for the Spirit however, it is easy to do Consciousness
logical phase of Consciousness looks at the structure of the Soul for statics and the Spiritual phase ^{well as if} accepting for a while the same view then it turns out that all optics ^{it means} some kind of possible crisis rests on the Spiritual status This is an unusual situation for her because any crisis situation as for information ^{about} this crisis this is the structure of rigid values dynamic Spirit in static phase an unnatural environment arises ^{yes} interactions of optical forms of information and then the crisis itself occurs it begins to disband because firstly there is a Spiritual phase in the decision not even any logic ^{there} namely the Spirit is decisive and this is usually very fast and as soon as the crisis phase approaches to the Spiritual plane then a spontaneous, sometimes very quick, solution arises really you have to see more here and the structure of the behavioral stereotype i.e. why in some situation some specific action is taking place i.e. here it is desirable to ^{consider} very closely all systems of influence ^{yes} especially like this ^{one there} on the day of a possible crisis or it might be a little earlier i.e. try to understand where does the system of influence on you come from because there is a crisis it is still a certain level of influence on you ^{well,} to one degree or another including in that regard that you may know some information ^{yes} but at the same time you think ^{for example} one shouldn't talk about her or there is no need to do much some kind of transformation of it but if it is really necessary for the world order in precisely the fundamental sense ^{there} for the Eternal development and do you consider this situation? like what you ^{well} maybe you'll say something in the ^{future} or maybe you need to hint or make the action minimal so that there is no crisis and you ^{for example} Well You don't do it quickly ^{there, right?} or at the right time then the actual synchronization with the development of the World begins in the Infinite level

i.e. and these are the forms of movement that result there is more of this flat one they start ^{to kind of} squeeze out your plans, ^{yes} more linear

i.e. some form of diversity

I call any kind of plans a linear plan and this is the form of diversity she starts to try to interact with your plans to somehow modify them because at some point you mean linearity Well as if they couldn't stand it i.e. they didn't pay attention to some situation it turns out that this is the crisis factor it actually begins to manifest itself very clearly at the level well as I said there projection-approximation systems but there is always a solution it is precisely in the more rarefied phase that here already if you work at a distance from yourself at a distant level then a more rarefied phase as a rule, this is the level of the solution to the problem although sometimes this option happens that small, granular structures denser phases of information this is also a solution to the crisis phase i.e. to be able to transform the crisis phase, for example just on optics it is necessary without highlighting the form of the event i.e. there is a pre-crisis type event, yes some parameters markers and the crisis itself is, as it were, in an empty phase it doesn't need to be visualized i.e. it is enough to define the marker zone and then we can know where the crisis information is touches with marker with projective phase Means Well as if about an event yes we don't need to know what the event is we enter the parameters of these granular ones there fine-grained structures which, well, let's say they actually work as push systems some unknown or transparent zone from the pre-crisis level phase i.e. there is a certain level, a certain brick, ^{yes} which is located in a kind of casing, ^{so to speak}, informational here is the casing, the glow, this is it this is a pre-crisis system usually it is a projection onto flat systems It is extremely rare that a crisis is projected onto a spheroidal level or on the inner surface of the sphere Well as if overcoming the external ^{system} this is usually the case for very dynamic systems or some minor systems

Means Well, it happens that sometimes it arises here very distant systems principle but basically ^{it means} in common practice it is always a projection onto a plane and that's when you start to see the planar phases be more careful somewhere a crisis situation is brewing and it turns out that projection ^{means} this well, which ^{kind of} comes from somewhere this is still a certain value, ^{yes} some source of information or ^{there} is energy, so to speak then you need to look at the rule what is the structure of this energy i.e. how do you see the source because the solution is always in the source and when you start to see actually Well, is this a normal, standardized solution to the problem? then you come to that that God created the World in just this way that seeing yourself ^{yes} you see how you save another already on Spiritual knowledge and it turns out to be enough to see yourself in the system of solutions, generally speaking, any not only ^{there are} some crisis or anti-crisis systems so it means crisis systems this means your information is somewhere nearby anti-crisis is an action if the crisis system is some kind of manifestation of statics yes in the transformation of the processes of the World then anti-crisis is this action and when you see yourself then it turns out that you are passing on help to someone else and it turns out to be a very logically understandable process when you see yourself you are in every control give yourself some knowledge here is the main point in the management of crisis situations what does it mean to consider your own positions analysis well actually as if the level of perception itself there is no talk of any kind of dialogue here there is no concept of "question-answer" frequently but simply self-perception and here is the correct one or let's say it means some kind of generally-normalized self-perception i.e. Self-perception in general terms of the collective level of management all people this is the level of transferring knowledge to another because what difference does it make in the end you look at yourself you actually teach yourself in some situations or to another

because the source that comes from you he is one and the same Light of God Divine Light transformed by your knowledge goes to the next level of management, for example so here is a fragment of Consciousness which you consider yours, for example Yes you see that this is an element of your personality that means when it starts to be visualized by you, for example from your physical body In fact, it is like a cellular analysis i.e. if you look at the picture from that point of view what well kind of the other way around that cells are a very powerful analytical level then it turns out that all cells are always scanned structure of future development and here it turns out that you teach yourself in fact, with his own physical body i.e. physical matter is self-teaching in this case because you see in general the following status that it is created in such a way that it is in physical matter there are also elements of training in Eternal Development when do you start to see it then this is generally speaking a powerful level to cure diseases

because when you start to see that one well as if it were a factor of development the glow of your physical matter where do you see for example what is she, well let's say so not so homogeneous or on the contrary, it may be in some levels has similar systems but it has the ability to transmit knowledge and get this knowledge for example at some level of distance i.e. a cell can give knowledge to another cell and even in the field version transfer control to the other part symmetrical that's why man was created symmetrically because the transmission of one outgoing level for the next

This is also, generally speaking, an anti-crisis option i.e. a more stable form of governance and so here we actually came to a very simple level even if you observe it physiologically how the body is structured then you can see that here it is just there are always levels of optimization going on the signal from the right hand goes to the left but the right one in principle has the same shape as the left one and it turns out that the signal is still going from one level to another from one hand to the other hand so he actually gains some knowledge, ^{yes} i.e. some optical elements are added in this case he gets into a similar system but in another place and that means and such a system begins to emit the opposite and it turns out that the process of self-education acquisition of knowledge between different systems this is an ongoing process and that's when you start to see the structure of this constancy ^{yes} it's much easier for you to solve all the issues i.e. in this case you see how for ^{example} the management process here's the one, ^{well for example} you use may actually be increased even in the effective ^{phase, right away} i.e. ^{for example} how to minimize processes make them very fast i.e. in this case you can see what is the control variable it increases all the time during development in the status of power

i.e. you can see it quite well how can the control element be developed before for ^{example} there is an Infinite Power Factor here's how to grow an organ in a human that means he needs a manager to do ^{means} the management is the same as God did when the organ created ^{yes} i.e. the concentration is very high and so when a person growth elements this optical expression of growth they developed gradually this mosaic yes it gradually grew and here to grow an organ often you need to do a one-time action then it turns out that you should control impulse to make so powerful that at the initial level of development literally there in a second or after some time interval which is perceived as a form of Thinking and not like time yes you get a significantly stronger one or something optical system in control and then you get exactly the solution to the problem i.e. a large stone can be moved there with a small crowbar if it's true it's on the slope yes and it turns out that it is important to highlight that structure here which precisely gives this resource in every movement increase your resource status, etc.

so here it is enough to see that that the whole world always develops synchronously by the Will and Task of God precisely in the direction of Eternal development but the concept of "differences from synchronicity" is yes where there is insufficient knowledge this is a concept that allows us to distinguish matrix levels in information well, i.e. nodal zones, so to speak, areas which give this constant light Well as if closer to that what is called the absolute picture of the world and we can do this in order to increase the impulse force just to illuminate everything i.e. to make it so that vision or let's say the reaction of these phases these areas of information she would be like this what does the impulse you set ^{mean} it would constantly increase i.e. this light would shine constantly to develop your control impulse why should this be done it is often necessary to increase here is my control impulse because in a crisis it happens like this that external events are not defined or there may be many of them that are ^{yes} focus this crisis on management and it turns out that therefore ^{it means} it is quite an effective level namely anti-crisis management is level of continuous increase of the control phase what exactly is against the crisis and that's when the crisis finally comes to light i.e. in this case I was talking about systems which allow before detection by primary signs still influence the picture of events ^{yes} but often identification is necessary to solve the problem radically or ^{for example} without detection the process ^{seems} not to be resolved at all this is starting to represent some kind of ^{Well For example} there is danger and threat ^{there} then it turns out you start to solve the problem and in this case you start to approach to identify the process ^{yes} i.e., in fact, the beginning of the process of crisis of some systems these are ^{basically} your personal actions but to solve a more complex issue and therefore here we see an analogy with that

as God does
He does everything himself Well of course He doesn't make negative statuses there , yes specially

but in the collective Consciousness when people can't do the same the same situation happens anyway that some problems may exist or there to increase or decrease, etc.

and it turns out that in this case you move on well, in the same system of control as God does control For example there far from Himself or close to Himself and you get that when you consider for example, different phases of your management those. super-fast or super-strong , etc. then in fact you are still there at a higher status in a very simple structure you are always getting to know yourself means overcoming the crisis it is a very intensive system of self-knowledge in management

you are forced by actually locating there , yes structures of one's own Soul because in a crisis most people turn to first of all to yourself to the system precisely means the reproduction of action from the Soul and so it's actually again level of self-knowledge and that's when you start to overcome the crisis then you can just put it in the future more of your own knowledge the technology in this case is very simple although it looks a bit, so to speak, generalized you must in the future your own come in and take a look what you should be prepared for and already based on this from this segment of the future reverse flow which increases with distance transfer knowledge to yourself and then the question arises where to transfer them that's exactly what anti-crisis management is all about It is very important to know where did you get the knowledge it turns out your own and where did you put them in the area of the physical body yes on what area of the body or on the area of Thinking and here it is very clearly visible why does man have Thinking and because to put on the area of Thinking you can Infinite amount of information and therefore the issue can always be resolved it turns out that there are no logically solvable questions does not exist in this technology Well , generally speaking, in essence, yes and it turns out that when you start increase the element of Thinking i.e. to put control on one's own Thinking you see that there is a glow on the body the body gives off a reverse, as it were, harmonic light it turns out that you are already in general harmony although this can be described as general harmony for example for you for those who perceive it then it turns out that there is a general harmonization going on and the level of this harmony is stable at least for a few seconds to start yes this is the solution to any crisis, generally speaking i.e. it is healing this is the solution to the situation i.e. to achieve a harmonious state precisely in the general plan, at least for a short time for starters and that's thanks to the technology that I showed you today you can achieve this state

This is where I end today's seminar.

Thank you very much for your attention
